* Nothing is Impossible *

In this world, whenever a person feels demotivated, they will say that everything is impossible but the truth is nothing is impossible. If you believe in yourself then your mindset will move from everything's impossible to nothing is impossible. People especially teenagers are likely to think more negatively as compared to adults. Because at this age {teenager's age}, the feelings are ~~most~~ ^{more} intense and sometime more sensitive. But at that age we are likely to feel more demotivated after trying only one time but the truth is your ego. Your ego is supposed to be at that level. Where you are failing but still ^{not} giving up and trying your best, that will ^{change your mindset} ~~become~~ that nothing is impossible. Everything is possible because of your mindset. You just need to make that mindset and that's it. You will achieve everything you want, just believe in yourself.

"Nothing is really ~~that~~ impossible."
