Federal Board Class 9 | All Subjects | All Attempts | Version 42 | Updated: 29 July 2026 | 37 attempts across 4 subjects

Note on this version (v42): Adds Math exam-14-ch1-2-4-5-7, marked 2026-07-29. 63/65 (96.9%, Grade A+), the 2nd-highest score among the four exam-11-through-14 papers sharing this exact Units 1,2,4,5,7 syllabus. MCQ 11/12 — Q.12 (quadrant of $(-x,y)$ when $x<0, y>0$) was answered "Second quadrant," the same letter as the correct answer to Q.11 immediately above it, instead of re-deriving the sign of $-x$ fresh; the correct quadrant is First. This ends the 3-exam perfect MCQ streak (Biology exam-12, Chemistry exam-16, Physics exam-11). Section B 32/33 — the only slip was Q.2(v): the division to 57.86 days was fully correct, but the question's explicit "round down" instruction was not followed (rounded up to 58) and the requested standard-form figure (5.7×10^1 days) was never written, a new instruction-following variant not seen before in Math. Section C is a perfect 20/20, the best Section C result of the four exam-11-14 papers. Math rises to 94.3% (613.0/650, 10 attempts), narrowing the gap to Chemistry (94.5%) to just 0.2 points, though still 3rd behind Physics (94.8%). Overall rises to 93.6% (2250.45/2405); overall MCQ record moves to 436/444 (98.2%); current MCQ streak resets to 0. See Version History below for the full reconciliation.

MCQ: 107/108 (99.07%), 1 error (exam-14) — Unchanged this version; holds clear 2nd place, but the gap to Math narrows sharply from 0.5 to 0.2 points after Math's exam-14 result
MATHEMATICS	94.3% 613.0/650 10 attempts
MCQ: 117/120 (97.5%), 3 errors (exam-07, exam-13, exam-14) — Rises this version (94.0%→94.3%) on the strength of exam-14's perfect Section C (20/20); climbs from a 0.5-point gap behind Chemistry to just 0.2 points, still 3rd, trailing both Physics and Chemistry
BIOLOGY	90.6% 529.95/585 9 attempts
MCQ: 105/108 (97.2%), 2 errors (exam-01, exam-11) — Unchanged this version; still the weakest subject, gap to Math widens slightly to 3.7 points and to Chemistry to 3.9 points

Recurring & New Patterns

New Observation (Math, 1st occurrence, 2026-07-29): Explicit Rounding-Direction Instruction Not Followed, Requested Format Omitted

Math exam-14's Q.2(v) asked to convert a recitation-timing calculation into days, explicitly instructing to "round down" and "express in standard form." Seemab's division was fully correct (5,000,000s → 1388.8 hours → 57.86 days), but she rounded to the nearest integer (58) instead of flooring to 57, and never wrote the requested standard-form figure (5.7×10¹). The underlying arithmetic is sound throughout; only the final instructed format was not followed. Only one occurrence so far, not yet confirmed recurring — watch for a second instance on any future question with an explicit rounding direction or requested output format (standard form, significant figures, units).

Confirmed Recurring Pattern: Stopping Before Completing Every Required Part (Biology, 5th occurrence, unaffected this version)

Biology exam-12's Q.2(xi)OR asked for three things chewing food for longer achieves; only the first was written, costing 2 of the 3 marks. This remains Biology's most persistent recurring weakness (after exam-07, exam-08, exam-09, exam-11). Not present on this version's Math attempt.

RECURRENCE (Physics, 2026-07-23): Stopping After Only Part of a Multi-Part Instruction, Reappears After Two Clean Papers

Physics exam-11 showed this pattern three times in Section B (Q2(vii) missing the Quantum Mechanics example, Q2(ix) Pascal's principle without the hydraulic-lift application, Q2(xi)OR geothermal without the fossil-fuel advantage) plus a related verification-skipping lapse in Q3(i)OR(c). Unaffected this version; carried forward for continued monitoring.

New Observation (Chemistry, 1st occurrence, 2026-07-22): One Half of a Paired Requirement Given, the Other Omitted

Chemistry exam-16 showed a milder cousin of the pattern above, twice on the same paper (Q2(i) medicinal-chemistry example omitted; Q2(vii) one graphite-use reason omitted). Unaffected this version; carried forward for continued monitoring.
