WHAT HAPPENED

Her second Tarjuma-tul-Quran paper, and the first to test Surah Taha, which her class finished this month. She scored 33/38 (86.8%), against 43/50 (86%) on exam-01, so the level is steady on a harder, no-choice paper. Section C carried it: the full account of Musa AS and Firaun earned 8/8, and Luqman's advice 7/8.

Where marks went	Marks	Kind
MCQ 1	1	Hazrat Usman RA instead of Hazrat Umar Farooq RA
Q.2 (i) three stages of Musa AS	1	The book's first stage (birth up to the hijrat to Madyan) is missing; she started from the return from Madyan
Q.2 (iii) As-Sajdah	2	One virtue is circular ("its virtue is mentioned in ahadith") and the khulasa half about answering the disbelievers' objections is absent
Q.4 Luqman's advice	1	Seven distinct advices; two of her headings collapse onto one book item, so she finished two short of eight

Every lost mark except MCQ 1 comes from the same habit: when the book prints a labelled list (the three stages of Musa AS, the virtues of As-Sajdah, the khulasa), she answers around it in her own framing. The content she writes is real, and often from the same lesson, but the marks hang on the book's own list.
