Corrections after deep-check — 42/50 → 43/50

A second, independent pass re-read every disputed answer against the scan and the exact book pages. Six marks changed:

Question	Was	Now	Why
Q.2(i) Main	1	0.5	She translated ayah 4 (the plea before the dua), not the dua itself (ayat 5–6) — only partial credit for naming what the dua was for.
Q.2(iv) OR	1	2	The book's own point is only "not created for mere play," which she states correctly; the "Hereafter" criterion isn't in the book, so no mark was owed for it.
Q.2(v) Main	2 (prov.)	1	No page is missing (withdrawn). Quote corrected: she wrote "those who believe," not "those who strive in His way"; the book's specific point is narrower, so half marks.
B(b) word 5	5/5	4/5	She wrote "a place to settle," not "mountain," for رَوَاسِي.
B(c)(ii) OR	1.5/3	3	"In six days" is written after all; both parts the printed question asks for (days, and what happened after) are answered correctly.
Q.4 Main	4.5/8	5.5	Re-derived from the book's own framing (conditions of the Day, then disbelievers, then believers) rather than the key's separate 5-bullet split.

Section-by-section breakdown

Section	Marks	%	What happened
A — MCQs (10 × 1)	10/10	100%	Every letter correct. Q.8 was corrected mid-paper from A to the right answer, C.

B(a) — Short Qs (5 × 2)	6.5/10	65%	One full mark (Luqman's naming) and one now-full mark (purpose of creation). The dua question named the wrong ayah; two answers (Sulaiman's blessings, who Allah helps) covered one true point but missed the book's fuller/exact one.
B(b) — Word meanings (5 × 1)	4/5	80%	Four of five Quranic words correct; رَوَاسِي (firm mountains) was answered as "a place to settle."
B(c) — Comprehension (3 × 3)	9/9	100%	All three correct once re-checked — the "six days of creation" answer does include the six days, contrary to the first pass.
C — Long Qs (2 × 8)	13.5/16	84.4%	Q.3 (Hazrat Sulaiman) full marks. Q.4 (Day of Qiyamah) re-marked against the book's own structure: solid on the tremor, the righteous and the judgement; still misses the disbelievers' humiliation in this world.

Subject performance

Strengths

- Perfect Section A on the very first attempt at this paper format — and she self-corrected Q.8 mid-exam.
- Perfect Section B(c) comprehension (9/9) once correctly re-read.
- Q.3 Section C essay on Hazrat Sulaiman (AS) is complete and well-organised under her own headings, missing nothing in the book's account.
- Her Urdu paraphrasing shows real understanding of the ayat's meaning, not rote memorisation.

Areas to work on

- Writing out the Arabic of a dua, and identifying the exact ayah asked for (Q.2(i) answered the verse just before the dua).
- رَوَاسِي (firm mountains) specifically, and Surah Al-Anbiya/As-Sajdah vocabulary generally.
- The book's exact wording on who Allah helps in Surah Al-Hajj, not just "those who believe."
- Sulaiman's (AS) worldly blessings (wealth, kingship, splendour) alongside his miracles.
- The specific Qiyamah imagery in Al-Hajj 1–2 (nursing mothers, pregnant women, intoxication).

Comparison with previous attempts

None available — this is Seemab's first attempt at Tarjuma-tul-Quran. For context, her opening attempt in each of her other four subjects was: Mathematics 100%, Physics 97.7%, Chemistry 98.5%, Biology 80.0%. At 86.0%, this debut sits within that range: a solid start, held back by specific, fixable gaps — one wrong verse identified, one wrong word meaning, and two half-complete points — rather than any misunderstanding of the surahs.

Full question-by-question marking with her quoted Urdu answers, and the full corrections table, is in the detailed report: quran/exams/exam-01-maryam-anbiya-hajj-naml-luqman-sajdah/attempts/2026-09-13/report.pdf (first-pass version kept as report-first-pass.pdf in the same folder). This corrected overview is filed alongside, not in place of, the first-pass overview.
